

Ragroof Players call-out for highly skilled actor-dancers (two male, one female)

Bridges y Puentes is a site-specific promenade show, staged in a car park / warehouse. It is an ongoing work – substantially researched, re-scripted and re-staged at each new site. It presents true-life stories of migration, exploring the theme of 'home' and 'homeland' using a multiplicity of languages – spoken, sung, played, and danced. It is presented by a cast of five actor-dancers and a musician-actor.

Ragroof is re-casting for 2017 presentations in Hull, London, and Dover. The company are working in collaboration with Theatre Royal Stratford East, Freedom Festival Hull and Dover Big local, auditions will be held in London.
