

Ragroof Players call-out for older female actor

We are seeking an older female actor to play Ruby, age 70+, a character who migrated to the UK from the Caribbean, Africa or India as a young woman in the 1950s/1960s.

Bridges y Puentes is a site-specific promenade show, staged in a car park/warehouse. It is an ongoing work – substantially researched, re-scripted and re-staged at each new site. It presents true-life stories of migration, exploring the theme of 'home' and 'homeland' using a multiplicity of languages – spoken, sung, played, and danced. It is presented by a cast of five actor-dancers and a musician-actor.

Ragroof is re-casting for 2017 presentations in Hull, London, and Dover. The company are working in collaboration with Theatre Royal Stratford East, Freedom Festival Hull and Dover Big Local, auditions will be held in London.
